Examples of Interview Questions Based On My Research

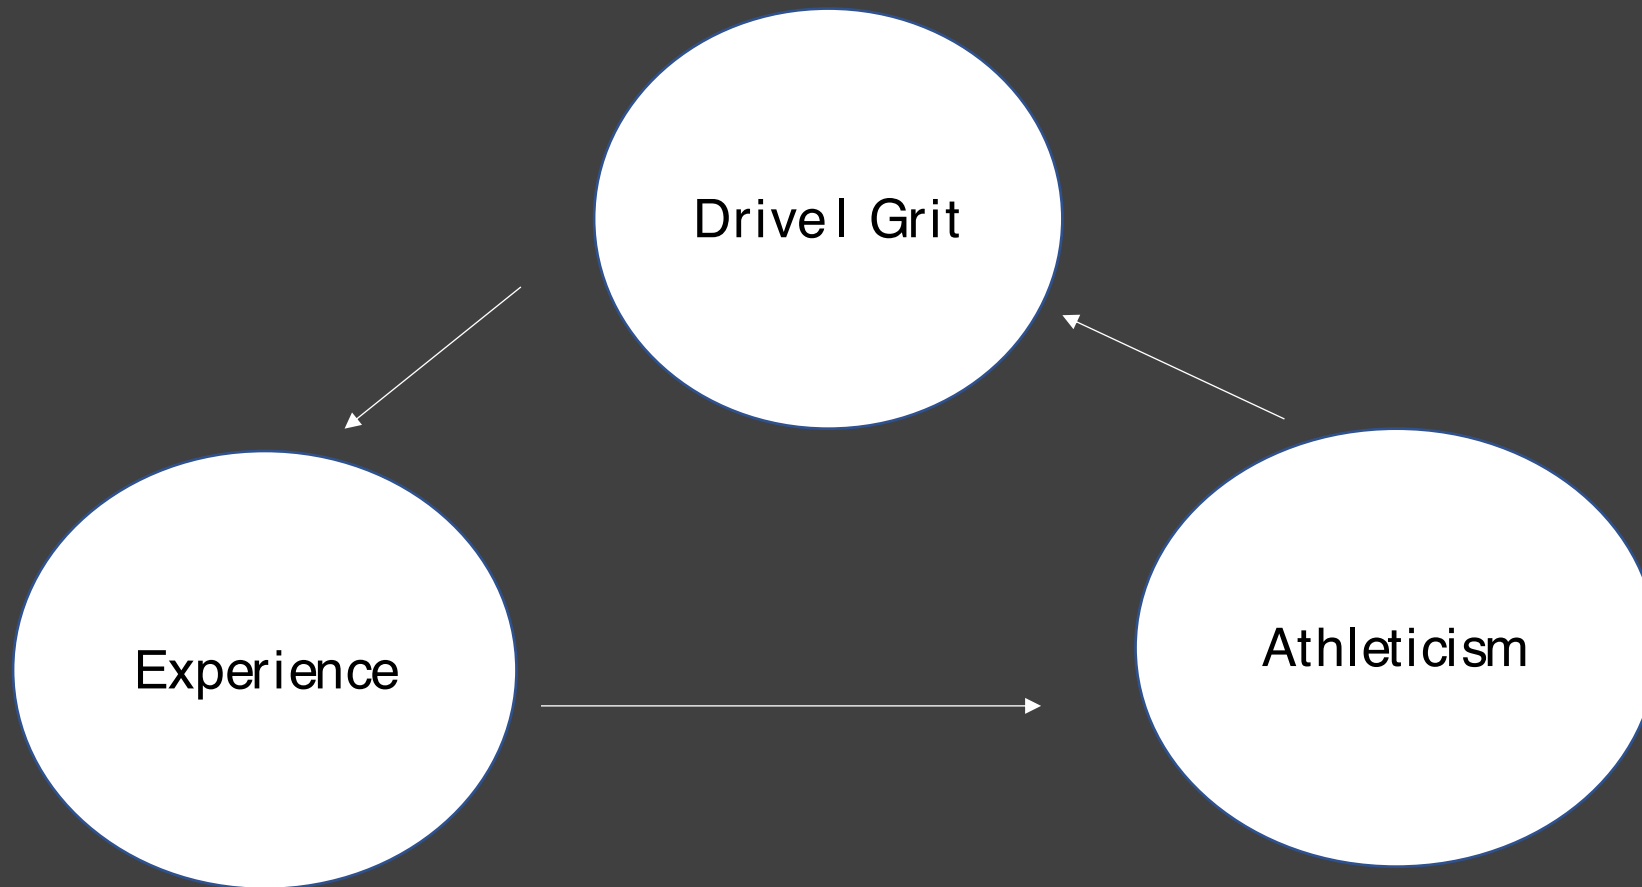

- Are you a process person or results person?
 - If process, why is process so important to you, and how do you balance that with timeliness?
 - If results, do you find yourself hurrying up to get to the finish line and missing out on details, or do you somehow find balance. If so, how?
- I see that you're an athlete, how has your athleticism been transferred off the field, and how do you balance that competitiveness to work with people not as competitive?
- Going into detail if only you're comfortable, name a time where personal tragedy or adversity has gotten you to a low point and how did you / what did you do to recover?
- Do you have sibling?
 - If yes, where do you fall in the totem pole?
 - How does that make you see the world and react?
 - If no, how does that make you feel?
 - Do you strive to build connection because of it?
